The partnership combines Greenscreens.ai's market-leading rate prediction capabilities with GenLogs' unique ability to source trusted carriers via its nationwide truck-tracking sensor network. Real-time data from GenLogs sensors and real-time pricing from Greenscreens.ai means that logistics teams can now confidently cover spot loads without ever posting on a public load board.

It is now possible to find the perfect carrier with the right equipment and backhaul needs – and know exactly the perfect rate to quote them”

Ryan Joyce, CEO of GenLogs

“With this partnership, we have placed the power of pricing and visually-verified capacity in the same work flow,” said Ryan Joyce, CEO of GenLogs. “It is now possible to find the perfect carrier with the right equipment and backhaul needs – and know exactly the perfect rate to quote them. GenLogs plus Greenscreens.ai is a match made in heaven.”

"Partnering with GenLogs allows Greenscreens.ai users to access dynamic pricing in more places, and there are more benefits on the horizon," said Kelly Gindlesperger, Senior Manager of Strategic Partnerships at Greenscreens.ai. "This is the first stage in our partnership with more exciting news to come"
