

A' Graphics, Illustration and Visual Communication Design Award Announces Final Call for Late Entries

Distinguished international design competition extends opportunity for graphic designers to showcase excellence through February 28, 2025

COMO, CO, ITALY, February 7, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Graphics, Illustration and Visual Communication Design Award, a highly prestigious international design competition recognizing excellence in graphic design and visual communication, has announced its final call for late entries.

The competition, established in 2008, stands as a highly regarded platform celebrating outstanding achievements in graphic design, illustration, and visual communication. The award aims to acknowledge and promote innovative solutions that advance the field of graphic design while contributing to societal well-being.

The significance of this recognition extends beyond individual acclaim, offering substantial benefits to the global design community. Notable past laureates include Tomohiro Kaji for the Dotline Corporate Identity, M-N Associates for their Giao Hang Tiet Kiem Brand Design, and Kaixuan Guo for the Printmaking Tibet Illustration. These winners have demonstrated exceptional creativity and technical prowess while addressing contemporary design challenges and societal needs.

The competition encompasses diverse categories including graphics design, illustration, visual communication design, typography, and digital art. Submissions are welcomed from individual designers, creative agencies, and companies worldwide. The late entry period remains open until February 28, 2025, with results to be announced on May 1st, 2025. Entries must represent work completed within the past decade, submitted through a comprehensive online platform.

Entries undergo evaluation through a rigorous blind peer-review process by an international jury panel comprising academics, journalists, and design professionals. The assessment criteria
