Bakery Processing Equipment Market

The bakery processing equipment market is witnessing several changes such as demand for energy-efficient equipment and demand for automatic and semi-automatic equipment. Labor reduction, modularity, and flexibility are attractive features in the bakery industry, which is changing their need for production line automation. There are several mergers and acquisitions in the market such as Escher Mixers acquisition in 2023 by Middlay Corporation. In October 2023, leading baking equipment manufacturer Rademaker partnered exclusively with Form & Frys Maskinteknik, a Danish business renowned for its proficiency in equipment for filling, folding, and forming pastries and other baked goods. This strategic partnership assisted Rademaker in increasing its footprint in Europe and North America, highlighting the market expansion by the companies.
