

InjureFree and National Club Alliance Unite to Elevate Athlete Safety Programs for NCA Members

InjureFree will provide SportsMed staffing services for NCA Event Operators, and Amsis will provide COVR insurance for players and parents.

SOLANA BEACH, CA, UNITED STATES, February 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/

-- InjureFree, a trailblazer in sports safety and injury management, has partnered with the National Club Alliance (NCA) to bring cutting-edge Athlete Safety programs to NCA members. This strategic collaboration represents a significant step forward in improving the safety and well-being of athletes across youth and amateur sports.

InjureFree’s proven expertise in injury management and sports safety aligns seamlessly with the NCA’s mission to provide youth sports organizations with premium resources and strategic partnerships. Through this partnership, InjureFree will offer its innovative services at NCA-hosted events and work closely with member organizations to enhance their Athlete Safety initiatives. A centerpiece of this collaboration will be integrating InjureFree’s Sports Medicine Placement service at NCA member club and league events.

Injuries are an inherent part of sports, but modern technology provides powerful solutions to manage them effectively.”

Brian Kuk, Managing Partner at the National Club Alliance

“The National Club Alliance has built a dynamic and engaged membership, and we’re thrilled to deliver value through our safety and compliance solutions,” said Charlie Wund, CEO of InjureFree. “This partnership enables us to be a true ally to the NCA and its members, equipping them with tools to safeguard their athletes and streamline operations.”

Brian Kuk, Managing Partner at the National Club Alliance, echoed this sentiment: “Injuries are an inherent part of sports, but modern technology provides powerful solutions to manage them effectively. InjureFree's turnkey platform offers seamless injury management for athletes, families, clubs, and Athletic Trainers, making them an ideal partner for the NCA."

This partnership underscores a shared commitment to athlete safety and represents a significant opportunity for NCA members to gain access to top-tier injury management and compliance solutions.
