Accountants (AICPA), is a rigorous audit that evaluates a company's information security controls over an extended period. This compliance affirms that LenderHomePage maintains robust security, availability, and confidentiality protocols, ensuring that clients' data remains protected at every level.

What This Means for LenderHomePage Clients

Mortgage professionals handle highly sensitive borrower data daily, making security a top priority. By achieving SOC 2 Type II compliance, LenderHomePage provides its clients with:

□ Enhanced Data Security – Industry-leading safeguards to protect borrower and business data from breaches and cyber threats.

□ Trust & Compliance – Meets stringent financial industry standards, making it easier for lenders to remain compliant with regulatory requirements.

□ Reliable Performance – Guaranteed system availability and uptime, ensuring uninterrupted access to critical mortgage tools.

□ Competitive Advantage – Gives mortgage professionals confidence that their technology provider is invested in top-tier security and compliance, fostering stronger relationships with borrowers and partners.

“At LenderHomePage, we understand that trust is the foundation of the mortgage industry,” said Rocky Foroutan, CEO. “Achieving SOC 2 Type II compliance underscores our relentless commitment to security, reliability, and innovation—so that our clients can focus on growing their business with peace of mind.”

This achievement further solidifies LenderHomePage as a trusted digital partner for loan officers, mortgage brokers, and lenders, ensuring a seamless, secure, and compliant mortgage technology experience.
