Weiner Team Op-Eds Trump's Potential Obamacare Fixes, Democrats' Revitalization, Aid for Fire Victims, Biden's Farewell Warnings, Voter Registration with H1s

WASHINGTON, DC, UNITED STATES, February 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Robert Weiner team has recently published five op-eds, including two ranked H1 (#1 in the nation) by OpEdNews, tackling major political issues shaping the nation. On February 2nd, Robert Weiner and Khel Gordhan published a piece in The Palm Beach Post, one of their two H1's, that examined how President Trump, who said he change Obamacare if he could improve it, could do so for the better if he follows through. Other articles address the Democratic Party's renewed energy starting with their winter new Chairman election meeting, Trump's bipartisan opportunity to aid California fire victims using his real estate expertise, and the need to heed President Biden's serious farewell warnings. Additionally, Weiner and Ting Cui published an op-ed in December last year in the Detroit News, also ranked H1 by Oped News, that analyzes how failures in voter registration cost the Democrats in key states in the election.

Recent Opeds

On February 2, 2025, Robert Weiner and Khel Gordhan wrote a piece titled, "Trump Says He's Willing to Improve Obamacare. Here's How He Can" in The Palm Beach Post. The article was ranked H1 -- meaning top oped -- by OpEdNews. The authors argue that President Trump and RFK Junior should continue the tax deductions for Obamacare and arrange a White House Summit of insurance company CEOs to continue reducing pricing and improving patient approvals. Such a meeting would have enormous potential to achieve a bipartisan agreement and improve cost-effectiveness.

On December 8, 2024, Weiner and Ting Cui published an article in the Detroit News titled, "Democrats' Serious Organizing Failure Led to Loss." It was subsequently reprinted in OpEd News as the #1 lead op-ed nationwide. The article critically examines the Democratic Party's voter registration misses -- "the first time in our lifetimes that Democrats registered fewer new voters than Republicans" -- and organizational missteps that contributed to key swing states' electoral losses in November. The authors propose expanded voter registration strategies to avoid similar pitfalls in the future.
