Axios Security Group Logo

As modern threats become increasingly complex, the demand for sophisticated executive protection is on the rise. Axios Security Group has consistently delivered personalized and discreet protection solutions tailored to the unique needs of its clients. This partnership with Independent Security Advisors brings together two industry powerhouses committed to excellence, ensuring that Axios Security Group's team members receive some of the most prestigious training available in the field.

"Partnering with Independent Security Advisors allows us to elevate our training protocols and implement industry best practices," said Jereme Dozier, CEO of Axios Security Group. "We pride ourselves on providing superior protection services, and this collaboration empowers our agents with unparalleled skills and knowledge to respond effectively in any situation."

Independent Security Advisors boasts a curriculum that covers a wide range of essential skills, from risk assessment and threat identification to defensive tactics and crisis management. With ISA's distinguished reputation and commitment to continuous education and improvement in the security sector, this partnership will provide Axios Security Group's personnel with the tools necessary to navigate today's complex security landscape.

Independent Security Advisors

"Executive protection is not just about guarding individuals; it's about understanding the intricacies of modern threats and being prepared," said Matthew Parker, founder of Independent Security Advisors. "By partnering with Axios Security Group, we can ensure that our training is not only top-tier but also directly aligned with real-world applications in the field."

We are very excited about this opportunity. Two veteran companies working together to enhance the private security industry. "
