Understanding the Risks of Frozen and Burst Pipes

Frozen pipes are a common issue during cold snaps, particularly in poorly insulated areas. When water freezes within pipes, it expands, leading to cracks or complete ruptures. Once the ice thaws, these compromised pipes can cause significant water damage to properties, resulting in expensive repairs and disruptions. JNR Plumbing LLC specializes in diagnosing, repairing, and replacing damaged pipes, offering solutions to mitigate risks associated with freezing temperatures and maintain the reliability of plumbing systems.
