Categories and Competitions

The awards highlight a variety of streaming achievements, with categories such as Craziest Outfit, Most Bright Reaction to a Lose, and Best Streamer Collaboration—all bringing unique and engaging content to their audiences.

Additionally, the event extends beyond the recognition of streamers. Individuals who participated in the nomination process and it was accepted — have a chance to win a portion of the $10,000 prize pool as a part of the Wheel of Fortune initiative.

Supporting Emerging Talent

One of the key initiatives of the 2025 event is the Dreams Come True, designed to support streamers in realizing their most ambitious content ideas. On the night of the awards, at least three streamers who submitted proposals outlining their goals will be selected to receive financial and technical support, enabling them to advance their content creation efforts. This initiative underscores the event's commitment to fostering growth and innovation in the streaming industry.

Viewer Engagement and Rewards

Audience participation extends beyond viewership with the interactive Bingo contest. Throughout the live broadcast, six hidden letters will appear, seamlessly integrated into graphics, animations, and stage elements. These letters will be subtly placed at specific moments, such as on the host's screen, in titles, or within animations.

To participate, viewers must track and collect all six letters as they appear. The first viewer to correctly submit the full sequence of letters in the chat—without editing their message—will be declared the winner and receive a $500 prize. The process will be monitored by moderators, and the host will announce the winner live after verification.
