While the technology continues to deliver gains in efficiency for real estate transactions, REALTORS® and their clients are increasingly targeted by scammers, and the cost to consumers is staggering.

With the increasing sophistication of online fraud and data misuse in real estate, Property Shield's AI-powered system automatically detects, monitors, and removes fraudulent listings, while ensuring data attribution compliance. Through this partnership, NNRMLS members gain access to real-time fraud detection, helping them maintain the integrity of their listings and strengthen consumer trust.

“We're excited to partner with NNRMLS to bring our compliance and fraud prevention solutions to real estate professionals across Northern Nevada,” said Alex Fahsel, Co-founder and CEO of Property Shield. “As online fraud tactics evolve, it's more important than ever for MLSs to equip their members with proactive security measures. Property Shield's automated monitoring and fraud detection technology helps NNRMLS members safeguard their listings, protect their clients, and maintain trust in an increasingly digital marketplace."

Strengthening Protection in a Digital Marketplace:

The integration of Property Shield's security technology into NNRMLS's ecosystem represents a significant advancement in fraud prevention and compliance enforcement.

Real estate professionals will benefit from:

- Automated monitoring that identifies fraudulent listings before they impact the marketplace.
- Instant alerts when unauthorized use of listing data is detected.
- Enforcement of data compliance rules, ensuring proper attribution and reducing risks for brokers and agents.

This initiative aligns with NNRMLS's broader strategy to continuously improve MLS technology, data security, and professional resources that support its members in an evolving industry.
