

Don't Tell Comedy Partners with Java Monster to Launch Half-Hour Comedy Specials

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, February 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Don't Tell Comedy, the underground sensation redefining live comedy, is thrilled to announce the launch of its first-ever half-hour comedy specials, sponsored by Java Monster. This groundbreaking new series will debut soon on YouTube, delivering extended performances from some of comedy's most exciting voices.

Building on its success of over 3 billion views across social channels and secret pop-up shows in more than 200 cities, Don't Tell Comedy is expanding its format. Traditionally known for its ten-minute sets, this new half-hour series provides comedians with a platform to showcase longer performances, bridging the gap between short-form sets and hour-long specials.

Each special will premiere on Don't Tell Comedy's YouTube channel, with clips shared across TikTok, Instagram, and Facebook to maximize audience reach and engagement. The inaugural seven specials, sponsored by Java Monster, feature a roster of comedians who have captivated audiences with their ten-minute sets, including Emma Willmann, Geoffrey Asmus, and Usama Siddiquee.

The series serves as a continuation of Don't Tell Comedy's mission to support the comedy community while providing fans with high-quality, accessible content. Following the first seven specials, Don't Tell plans to release additional half-hour sets later this year, broadening its reach and further solidifying its place at the forefront of modern stand-up comedy.
