

BECN Launches Campaign to Help UK Businesses Reclaim Mis-Sold Energy Costs

Business Energy Claims Nationwide (BECN) Launches Campaign to Combat Mis-Sold Energy Contracts, Urges UK Businesses to Reclaim Lost Funds

STEVENAGE, LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, February 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Business Energy Claims Nationwide (BECN), a leading UK advocate for corporate energy fairness, today announced a nationwide initiative to empower businesses affected by mis-sold energy contracts. With a proven track record of recovering millions in overcharges, BECN highlights the urgent need for transparency in an industry rife with hidden fees and undisclosed broker commissions.

The Hidden Crisis: Mis-Sold Energy Contracts Cost UK Businesses Millions

Recent data reveals that 1 in 3 UK SMEs have been unknowingly locked into unfair energy contracts, costing businesses an average of £7,500 annually in overcharges. Energy brokers and suppliers often obscure contract terms, withhold commission disclosures, or pressure businesses into agreements that prioritize profit over fairness.

“Many businesses assume their energy contracts are straightforward, but our research shows systemic exploitation,” BECN’s Managing Director. “Charities, care homes, and SMEs are particularly vulnerable. It’s time to hold suppliers accountable.”

How BECN Fights for Businesses: No-Win, No-Fee Expertise

BECN simplifies the claims process for businesses with a four-step solution:

1. Free Contract Review: Experts assess energy agreements for red flags like hidden commissions or rate inflation.
2. Forensic Audit: Uncover discrepancies in billing, broker disclosures, and contract terms.
3. Claims Management: BECN negotiates directly with suppliers, handling legal complexities.
4. No Financial Risk: Clients pay nothing upfront—fees apply only upon successful compensation recovery.

Proven Results:

- A Bristol-based care home reclaimed £23,000 after discovering undisclosed broker fees.
- A Midlands manufacturing SME recovered £15,400 from an energy supplier that failed to disclose contract terms.

“BECN’s team was relentless. They recovered £10,000 for our arcade business, which we’ve reinvested into hiring staff,”

Is Your Business at Risk? Key Warning Signs

BECN urges businesses to act if their energy contract includes:

- Undisclosed broker commissions
- Lack of transparency in pricing breakdowns
- Pressure to sign without independent advice
- Unexplained rate hikes or billing errors
