As a company focused on helping real estate teams and brokerages convert more leads through innovative marketing solutions, Ylopo recognizes the critical role of email communication in client engagement. By partnering with SH Consulting, Ylopo is taking proactive steps to amplify email security, improve inbox placement, and protect domain reputation.

SH Consulting specializes in securing high-deliverability email solutions for real estate brokerages, teams, and technology companies. Their expertise includes advanced email authentication (SPF, DKIM, DMARC), reputation management, phishing detection, encryption, and traffic segmentation. With these enhancements, Ylopo clients can boost their email marketing effectiveness while maintaining data security and compliance.

"At SH Consulting, our mission is to help businesses deliver emails that land in inboxes—not spam folders," said Alex Shakhov, Founder at SH Consulting. "We're excited to work with Ylopo and support their efforts in providing real estate professionals with the most powerful digital marketing tools."

This alliance reflects Ylopo's ongoing commitment to innovation, providing real estate agents and teams with the most beneficial and secure marketing solutions.
