Hosted by The Amazing Race winner Alex Boylan, The College Tour is a one-of-a-kind show that gives families the freedom to explore all options in higher education without the burden of travel costs or logistics.

“Season 13 is a fantastic showcase of the countless unique opportunities available to students. With no two paths alike, each student has the freedom to shape a learning experience that truly fits their goals and aspirations,” said host, co-creator, and executive producer Alex Boylan.

Although each school featured this season has its own distinct identity, they all embrace a comprehensive approach to preparing their students for the real world. Whether it's through innovative learning environments, career connections, or internship opportunities, these institutions are dedicated to helping students thrive both on and off campus.

Majors explored across this season's diverse landscape include:

Biochemistry
International Business
English
Engineering Technology

Featured schools include:

Southwestern Oklahoma State University
Drew University

Our Lady of the Lake University
Cal State Fullerton
Earlham College

"It is incredible to see how dedicated each school is to ensure that all of their students are thriving in and outside of the classroom. This generation is so lucky to be given tools that will help them soar to new heights and truly reach their potential," Boylan added.
