"GovSmart's expertise in government IT procurement and implementation makes them an ideal partner for Tehama as we expand our availability in the U.S. public and education sectors," said Mick Miralis, Chief Revenue Officer, Tehama.

"With ever-present security and governance threats, increasing demand for secure, compliant work solutions, not to mention budget constraints, our platform enables organizations to quickly provide comprehensive cyber and hybrid work services, mitigate budget challenges and address new areas such AI governance with a solution that does not break the bank. "

Secure, Compliant Cloud Workspaces for Public Sector and Educational Institutions

Public sector agencies and educational institutions face significant challenges in securing remote and hybrid work environments while ensuring compliance with evolving security standards. Traditionally, virtualization, endpoint security, access control, and data governance have involved complex integrations, multiple vendors, lengthy procurement processes, and rising costs.

Tehama's platform redefines success by simultaneously delivering:

- A turnkey and comprehensive suite of security, cyber, and hybrid work services
- Centralized management, provisioning, and cost optimization
- Integrated infrastructure and virtual desktops with compute included
- Seamless hybrid connectivity
- Third-party integration

"As government agencies continue to modernize IT infrastructures, securing remote access and managing sensitive data are top priorities," said Kerry Rock, Chief Technologist, GovSmart. Tehama's cybersecurity platform is a game-changing solution that allows agencies to safeguard mission-critical operations, reduce risk, and meet compliance requirements while maintaining a seamless user experience. We're proud to add Tehama to our portfolio of best-in-class solutions for government IT."
