Both brands are built on the belief that travel should empower local economies, not displace them. Global Nomad Pass collaborates with local field representatives to handpick and support small businesses – think cafes, restaurants, coworking spaces, fitness studios, and unique cultural experiences – ensuring that travelers' spending has a meaningful impact. Nomadico, in turn, partners with local businesses to transform underutilized spaces into vibrant coliving communities, providing remote workers with inspiring places to live and work. By working closely with local hosts, Nomadico ensures an authentic coliving experience that fosters meaningful connections and a positive impact on the local economy.

Global Nomad Pass and Nomadico are both deeply committed to local impact, and we're thrilled to offer Nomadico guests the opportunity to save money while supporting local businesses worldwide.”

Safir Jamal, CEO of Global Nomad Pass
