BUILDINGS magazine, published by Endeavor Business Media, created the Product Innovation Awards to celebrate innovative building materials and solutions helping architects, building owners and product specification influencers create aesthetically pleasing, high functioning commercial projects. A panel of esteemed and experienced industry insiders from the building and architectural community look for manufacturers with concepts, products and systems that move the needle on innovation.

The XLERATOR Hand Dryer with eHEPA Filtration is a touchless, state-of-the-art hand drying solution designed to enhance hygiene, efficiency and environmental sustainability in commercial restrooms while providing up to a 95 percent cost savings when compared to paper towels for owners. This advanced hand dryer combines powerful performance with cutting-edge filtration technology to deliver superior results.

What sets the XLERATOR Hand Dryer apart is its eHEPA Filtration System. This more durable electrostatically charged HEPA filter captures 99.999 percent of viruses and 99.97 percent of bacteria from the airstream to ensure that users have clean, safe air to dry their hands with. This advanced technology significantly reduces the risk of pathogen transmission and enhances overall restroom hygiene.
