

CodaPet expands compassionate in-home pet euthanasia services in Columbus, OH

The veterinarian-owned startup empowers a network of veterinarians who provide in-home euthanasia to ease the passing of pets at home, surrounded by loved ones.

COLUMBUS, OH, UNITED STATES, February 28, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CodaPet is expanding its services in Columbus, OH. The company provides peaceful in-home pet euthanasia through a network of compassionate and licensed veterinarians who offer end-of-life care for pets at home. In-home pet euthanasia is the best experience for dogs and cats and their families because their home is where they feel most familiar and comfortable. Dr. Alexandra Wolfingbarger joined Dr. Kristen Maul to serve Columbus and the surrounding areas.

As a veterinarian who has lost a pet, providing this type of service to our community is particularly meaningful for me.”

“As an in-home euthanasia veterinarian, I repeatedly hear the heartfelt gratitude and the relief a family feels when they have been able to grant their pet this gift. It is my wish that every family in Columbus become aware of at-home pet euthanasia so they may provide a peaceful and compassionate end-of-life experience for their beloved pets when their time comes,” says Dr. Karen Whala, a co-founder of CodaPet.

Dr. Karen Whala, Dr. Gary Hsia, and Dr. Bethany Hsia are co-founders and veterinarians of CodaPet. They share a passion for increasing both customer access and awareness by empowering a network of veterinarians who provide compassion and professional care to more pets and their families in a familiar environment.

“In-home euthanasia provides the end of life loving atmosphere pets and families deserve and allows your pet to be surrounded by loving family without stress or fear. As a veterinarian who has lost a pet, providing this type of service to our community is particularly meaningful for me,” says Dr. Alexandra Wolfingbarger. Dr. Wolfingbarger has dedicated her career to honoring the deep bond between pets and their families. A native of Bexley, Ohio, she completed her undergraduate studies at The Ohio State University before earning her DVM from St. George's University. Her passion for veterinary medicine led her to focus on in-home end-of-life care, ensuring that beloved pets can pass peacefully in the comfort of their homes, surrounded by love.

With a compassionate and gentle approach, Dr. Wolfingbarger strives to support families during one of the most difficult moments of pet ownership, providing guidance, comfort, and dignity. Outside of her work, she enjoys exploring the outdoors, traveling, and indulging in her love of cars. At home, she is adored by her cat, Biscuit, who bears a heart-shaped mark on his head, and her affectionate pittie, Dot.

How In-home Pet Euthanasia Works

Through CodaPet's website, pet parents can easily book in-home pet euthanasia performed by a licensed vet.

Before the appointment, the vet contacts the family to address any questions or concerns they might have.

The vet assists the family by going over the diagnosis and applying a quality-of-life assessment to objectively assess the pet's health and ensure there is no uncertainty about the need for euthanasia.

For those who need support with aftercare, CodaPet can also assist with transportation and cremation services.

The visit takes, on average, one hour. Pet parents have a window of time to be with their pets privately before and after the euthanasia procedure, which lasts about 15 minutes. The vet only starts the euthanasia process when everyone is ready. This helps bring closure to all family members involved in the end-of-life care of a pet.

Benefits of In-home Pet Euthanasia include:

1. Compassion: In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more compassionate approach to end-of-life care. Pets can be surrounded by their loved ones, receive individual attention and care, and pass away peacefully in a familiar environment.
2. Comfort: One major benefit of in-home pet euthanasia is the comfort it provides to both the pet and their owners. The familiar surroundings of home can help reduce anxiety and stress for pets, making the process more peaceful. In addition, being surrounded by loved ones can provide a sense of support and comfort during a very difficult time.
3. Control: In-home pet euthanasia also allows pet owners to have more control over the experience. They can choose the time and place of the euthanasia, as well as who will be present. In addition, in-home euthanasia allows owners to personalize the experience, including choosing the location, music, lighting, and other factors that can make the experience more meaningful.
4. Closure: Being able to say goodbye in a meaningful way can be an essential part of the grieving process. In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more intimate farewell, which can provide closure and help with the healing process.

In-home Pet Euthanasia Costs

The starting price of in-home euthanasia starts at $300 in Columbus. The aftercare and cremation price begins at $50 and varies depending on factors such as the driving distance, the pet's size, and the option for private or communal cremation.
