

Kyoto Genki M380 Massage Chair Named 2024 Top Pick by New York Times Wirecutter

Praised for its intuitive design, advanced features, and ability to deliver a massage experience that rivals the real thing.

SEABROOK, NH, UNITED STATES, March 4, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kyoto Massage Chairs is honored to announce that in October, the Kyoto Genki M380 Massage Chair was selected as the 2024 Top Pick by New York Times Wirecutter, a trusted authority on consumer product reviews. This prestigious recognition highlights the Genki M380's superior design, features, and ability to deliver a personalized, full-body massage experience.

Wirecutter highlighted the Kyoto Genki M380 Massage Chair for its intuitive design and comprehensive features, stating, "After testing 25 models from some of the top brands, we think the Kyoto Genki M380, with its easy-to-use controls, offers the closest thing you can get to a real massage."

The Kyoto Genki M380 offers a range of standout features, including full-body massage coverage that targets the neck, back, arms, legs, and feet with precision. Its advanced body-scanning technology ensures a customized experience for users of varying sizes, while the chair's zero-gravity recline enhances relaxation by mimicking a weightless position. With five massage techniques and 12 programs, including targeted options for the neck and shoulders, the chair offers unparalleled versatility. Additionally, the Genki M380 includes a voice command feature, the ability to store up to three custom massage programs, and a best-in-class four-year warranty. Designed to support users up to 6'2" and 300 pounds, this massage chair combines functionality with comfort.

Wirecutter testers were particularly impressed with the chair's precision and comfort,

We are thrilled and honored that the Kyota Genki M380 has been recognized as Wirecutter's 2024 Top Pick"
