“The Hamptons is a special place for us, it's our backyard,” MRG Security CEO Patrick McCall said. “We are the only security company who operates here full time, year round. When our clients visit, they want to go undetected as much as possible. We know the shortcuts; we know the back entrances. Our Security Agents are discrete and can move our celebrity clients around most of the time without them being spotted. That's the greatest reward for me: when a client can enjoy everything the Hamptons has to offer, while being secure and relaxed.”
