A Partnership Certified at Got Sole

This past weekend, Cal Dental USA and Ironman 45 showcased their collaboration at the Got Sole sneaker

convention, marking the official launch of this partnership. The event brought together sneakerheads, athletes, and health-conscious consumers, giving attendees a first look—and taste—of Ironman 45 Vegan Cookies while highlighting the importance of nutrition in maintaining overall health.

"At Cal Dental USA, we believe in treating more than just teeth—we focus on total wellness," said James Jones, CEO of Cal Dental USA. "Our presence at Got Sole certified this partnership with AC Green and Ironman 45, showing our commitment to helping patients make better, healthier choices—both in the dentist's chair and in their daily lives."

Ironman 45: The Vision for Healthier Snacking

Founded by AC Green, the NBA's legendary 'Ironman' with a record-breaking 1,192 consecutive games played, Ironman 45 is built on clean eating and premium, plant-based nutrition.

The Ironman 45 Vegan Cookie line features three delicious, health-conscious flavors:

Chocolate Chip – A classic favorite with rich, dairy-free chocolate.

Double Chocolate Chip – A cocoa-packed indulgence.

Snickerdoodle – A warm, cinnamon-sugar delight.

Made with vegan, gluten-free, dairy-free, and all-natural ingredients, these cookies deliver great taste without compromising on health.

A Meeting of Minds: James Jones & AC Green

The collaboration between James Jones and AC Green first took shape at Byron Scott's Fire First Responders charity event, where the two bonded over their shared passion for health, community impact, and wellness education.

"This is more than just about offering a snack—it's about shifting mindsets toward better nutrition," said Jones. "By teaming up with AC Green, we're giving our patients a chance to experience plant-based eating firsthand, and we're excited to see the impact."

Beyond the Cookie: A Commitment to Wellness

Cal Dental USA has a track record of partnering with elite athletes to promote health-focused initiatives, including collaborations with Tiki Barber, Baron Davis, and now AC Green. This new partnership with Ironman 45 reinforces the company's dedication to providing holistic health education and wellness options to its patients.

"I've always believed that what you put in your body determines how you perform—not just as an athlete, but in everyday life," said AC Green. "This partnership with Cal Dental USA is an opportunity to bring clean, plant-based nutrition directly to people who may not have considered it before. We're breaking barriers and leading the charge in redefining health."

Special thanks to Stacey Kauhaahaa, Assistant to AC Green, for her leadership in making this partnership a reality.
