"Innovative technology plays a critical role in the welfare of individuals and their teams, and we appreciate the opportunity to support EVERYWHERE Communications with the capital they need to scale their life-saving Global SOS, Tracking and Messaging solutions for the private and public sectors," noted Heather La Freniere, Co-founder and Managing Partner of LAGO.

The EVERYWHERE Platform provides seamless connectivity, ensuring that mobile teams remain connected and protected regardless of location or geography, globally. The company provides software solutions for enterprise customers in Forestry, Humanitarian Aid, Mining, Oil and Gas Exploration, Media, Conservation, Security and Utilities as well as government solutions supporting Wildland Firefighting, State and National Parks, and more.

“At EVERYWHERE Communications, our mission is to keep our customers’ mobile workforces Always Connected™,” said Patrick Shay, CEO of EVERYWHERE Communications. “The financial support from LAGO has been instrumental in accelerating our growth in connecting and protecting mobile operators around the world. Our platform will continue to connect and protect organizations’ most important asset—their people.”

John Cannon, Founder of Spring Rock Capital, EVERYWHERE board member, and who introduced the two teams adds, “In an increasingly accessible yet complicated world, EVERYWHERE Communications makes the aspiration of global connectivity a reality in mission-critical environments. As a feature rich software provider for entities managing people across difficult geographical environments, EVERYWHERE provides seamless solutions to a continuously expanding array of customers.”
