MEMPHIS , TN, UNITED STATES, March 4, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Memphis Collaborative Divorce Alliance President Cindy MacAulay and Collaborative Divorce Attorney Amy Amundsen were guests on The Respectful Divorce podcast discussing the Collaborative Divorce process and the Divorce With Respect Week® initiative. The Respectful Divorce Podcast is a national podcast that explores different divorce options with divorce professionals from around the country and is for couples facing the possibility of divorce.

"I thought the Collaborative Divorce process was a great one when I first heard about it," said Cindy MacAulay a divorce financial professional. "It is different because the couple is in charge of the decisions, not a stranger or judge."

During Divorce With Respect Week® Collaborative Divorce professionals in Memphis are offering free 30 minute virtual divorce consultations from March 3 through 9. To schedule a free consultation with a divorce attorney, divorce financial professional, divorce coach or mental health professional go to www.divorcewithrespectweek.com where you will find a list of participating Memphis divorce professionals.

"I left the litigation arena when COVID-19 hit," said Amundsen. "Collaborative Divorce protects children by having a neutral mental health professional person involved, it preserves the finances, and it provides a confidential and private arena where parties can resolve differences in a respectful manner.
