“For years, I’ve guided my clients in securing their financial futures, yet one of the most important aspects of financial security—estate planning—was often missing,” said Bob Chitrathorn. “Many people assume estate planning is only for the wealthy or that it’s too expensive. But the reality is, everyone needs a will or trust, and I was tired of seeing clients not have access to these essential tools. That’s why I partnered with Trust & Will—to provide an affordable, accessible solution that ensures everyone can protect their loved ones.”

Why Estate Planning is Essential

Estate planning is often overlooked, but it is one of the most critical financial decisions an individual can make. A will or trust ensures that assets are distributed according to personal wishes, minimizes disputes among heirs, and prevents unnecessary legal complications. Additionally, estate planning allows individuals to appoint guardians for their children, specify healthcare directives, and manage digital assets—elements that are crucial but frequently ignored.

Without proper estate planning, families can face lengthy probate battles, financial burdens, and even state intervention in distributing assets. Bob has seen firsthand the devastating consequences of inadequate planning, which is why he has made it his mission to remove barriers and increase accessibility to estate planning services.

The Power of Partnership: Trust & Will

Trust & Will is revolutionizing estate planning by providing an easy-to-use digital platform where users can create state-specific, legally valid wills and trusts in minutes. This innovative service is designed for modern consumers who want a fast, efficient, and affordable alternative to traditional estate planning.

Through this partnership, Bob is empowering his clients to take control of their legacy without the stress, confusion, or exorbitant costs often associated with estate planning. Clients can now create a will, trust, healthcare directive, and power of attorney from the comfort of their homes—all at a fraction of the cost of working with a traditional estate attorney.

“Estate planning should be as routine as setting up a retirement account or life insurance policy,” Bob continued. “By integrating Trust & Will into my financial services, I’m making it easier for individuals and families to secure their futures without feeling overwhelmed or financially strained.”

Breaking the Myth: Estate Planning Isn't Just for the Wealthy

One of the biggest misconceptions about estate planning is that it is only necessary for the ultra-wealthy. However, estate planning is vital for everyone, regardless of income level. Even individuals with modest assets need to ensure that their belongings—whether it's a home, savings, or sentimental family items—are passed down according to their wishes.

This partnership provides affordable estate planning solutions so that no one is forced to delay or forgo critical legal documents due to financial limitations.

Making Estate Planning a Priority

Bob has always been committed to holistic financial wellness, and estate planning is a crucial piece of that puzzle. He strongly believes that no one should delay or neglect creating a will simply because they assume it's too costly or complicated.

“If you care about your loved ones, estate planning isn't optional—it's a necessity,” Bob emphasized. “Even if you think you don't own much, having a legally documented plan ensures that your wishes are honored and your family is protected.”

This partnership makes estate planning more accessible, affordable, and approachable, ensuring that individuals of all backgrounds can protect their families, reduce legal complications, and create a lasting legacy.

A Call to Action: Start Today, Secure Tomorrow

Bob is urging individuals and families to take advantage of this game-changing opportunity. By leveraging his partnership with Trust & Will, clients can now create their estate plans quickly, efficiently, and affordably—without any more excuses for putting it off.

“Too often, people push estate planning aside, thinking they have time or that it’s something they’ll handle later,” Bob noted. “But life is unpredictable, and waiting until it’s too late can cause unnecessary stress and hardship for your family. That’s why I want to make estate planning as simple and accessible as possible—so that everyone can have peace of mind knowing their affairs are in order.”

For those ready to take the next step, Bob offers guidance, resources, and easy access to the Trust & Will platform. He encourages clients to stop procrastinating and start planning today—because securing your future shouldn’t be something you put off until tomorrow.
