What Are the Principal Drivers of Growth in the Corifact Market?

The rising incidence of bleeding disorders is a major driver of market expansion. These disorders hinder the body's ability to form stable blood clots, leading to excessive or prolonged bleeding. Factors such as advancements in genetic testing, increased awareness, improved diagnostic capabilities, and underlying health conditions have contributed to the growing prevalence of these disorders. Corifact plays a crucial role in treating factor XIII deficiencies by replenishing the missing clotting factor, which helps stabilize blood clots and prevent excessive bleeding.

Which Are the Major Companies Operating in the Corifact Market?

A key player in the Corifact market is CSL Behring, which continues to drive industry innovation and growth.

How Is the Corifact Market Segmented?

The Corifact market is categorized into:
