In "Extreme Entrepreneurs," Tracy Emerick examines two figures who reshaped the world through technology and spirituality.

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, March 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In an era where leadership, innovation, and spiritual growth are more vital than ever, "Extreme Entrepreneurs: Steve Jobs and Jesus Christ" presents a compelling parallel between two figures who transformed the world—one through technology, the other through faith. Returning to the spotlight at the London Book Fair 2025, this thought-provoking 88-page religious self-help title will be available at The Maple Staple's Booth #6G40 from March 11-13, 2025, at Olympia London.

Extreme Entrepreneurs: Steve Jobs and Jesus Christ

In this insightful book, Tracy Emerick, Ph.D., explores the revolutionary impact of Steve Jobs and Jesus Christ, revealing how both visionaries reshaped their respective domains. Jobs, through his groundbreaking innovations, made complex technology accessible to everyday people—putting a "bicycle for the mind" in their hands. Meanwhile, Jesus Christ transformed humanity's spiritual landscape, replacing fear with love and igniting a movement that endures today.

A retired business owner with over two decades of experience in database marketing, consulting, and training, Tracy Emerick, Ph.D., has also dedicated years to public service. He served as a state representative for ten years, spent over two decades on his town's planning board, and has been the moderator of his Congregational church for nearly forty years. His literary work reflects his lifelong commitment to personal growth, leadership, and the pursuit of a more enlightened society.
