The Guild Rewards Program Benefits

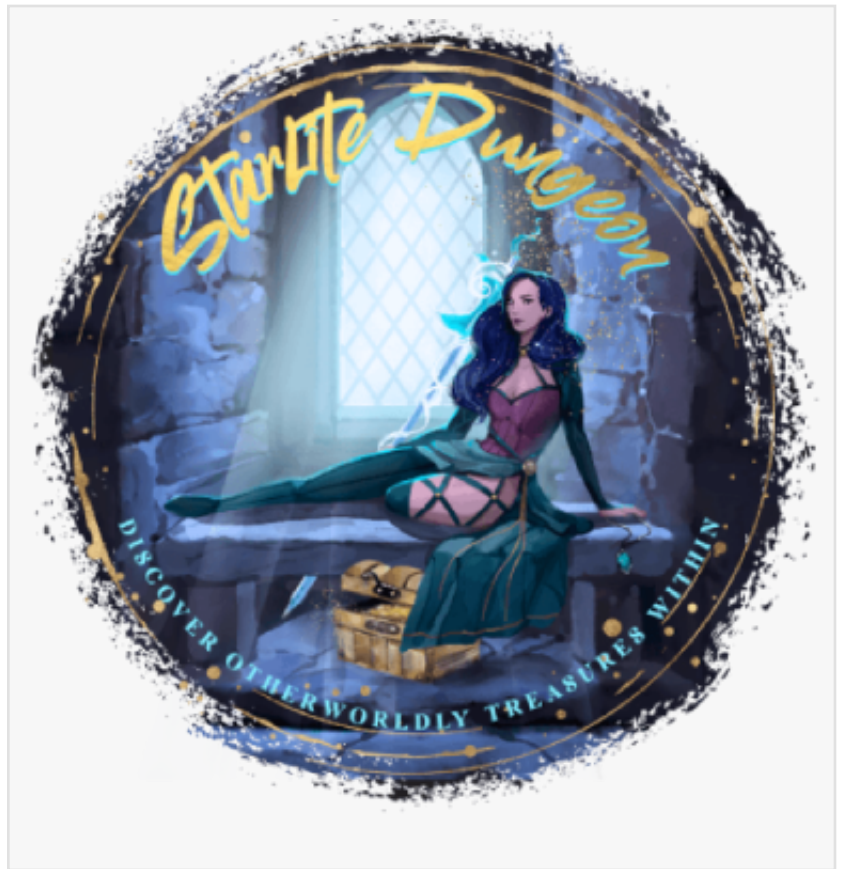

Earning Points on Purchases

Calling All Adventurers! The Starlite Dungeon invites you to join the Guild, their rewards program.

When you shop at Starlite Dungeon, every purchase brings you closer to extra rewards. Every dollar you spend adds to your points. These points accumulate and give you more opportunities to collect more treasures as they can be traded for credit you can use on future merchandise, making your purchases even more satisfying. This means you can pay less for that next must-have collectible just by collecting enough points.

Starlite Dungeon offers these discounts so that you feel rewarded for adventuring with them. This rewards program can now apply to conventions, too! Just tell the owner about wanting to join the Guild, and they will write down your email along with your purchase.

They will confirm that the order's points are attached to your account, on the site, after the event. If you didn't have the chance at the convention to mention this, you can also reach out on the website, contact team. Just provide an email and details of your purchase and they can sign you up then!

Positive Feedback on Merchandise at Conventions

You walk into their booth full of excitement and feel the warmth of authentic voices talking about the fandoms you know and love. The owner is a genuine anime fan with a deep love for anime, especially the Isekai genre. At their first event, attendees mention that they found rare treasures that truly expressed their feelings for the fandoms and the characters they love so much. This sparked genuine smiles and a sense of belonging among fans, leading many of them to visit multiple times and some to even spend time talking with the owner over their favorite animes. This heady mix of nostalgia and fun is something you can easily appreciate when you experience the merchandise firsthand.

As you reflect on the experiences shared by attendees, it becomes clear that these products are not just plushies, images, or figurines; they are cherished companions that evoke memories and foster connections. Even if you do not see your fandom displayed at the convention or on the site, don't be discouraged. The owner loves suggestions and will investigate any merchandise options for those shows and follow up with you by email or text. You can also reach out to them
