packaging solutions

Sustainability in lubricants and next-generation fuel alternatives

Supply chain disruptions and trade flow dynamics across key regions

The emerging role of AI in pricing intelligence and logistics optimization

Key insights into India's infrastructure-driven bitumen demand

China's evolving base oil sourcing strategies and its impact on global markets

With rapid industrial expansion and rising infrastructure investments, the demand for bitumen, lubricants, and logistics solutions continues to surge across high-growth economies. ABBL Bangkok 2025 will offer critical market intelligence, ensuring that businesses stay ahead of shifting trends and emerging opportunities.

Booming Bitumen & Base Oil Demand Across Asia & the Middle East

Asia and the Middle East continue to dominate the global bitumen and base oil trade, driven by megaprojects, industrial growth, and expanding transportation networks.

India: One of the world's fastest-growing bitumen markets, fueled by government-led infrastructure projects, smart cities, and road development.

Southeast Asia: Thailand, Vietnam, Malaysia, and Indonesia are rapidly evolving into major trading hubs, with rising demand for premium lubricants and bitumen products.

Middle East: A key supplier and exporter of base oils and bitumen, leveraging advanced refining capabilities and growing trade ties with China, India, and Africa.

China: Continues to be a global demand driver, with increasing investments in automotive production, industrial lubricants, and large-scale infrastructure.

As markets evolve and trade corridors shift, ABBL Bangkok and AMEA Dubai will provide a strategic platform for industry stakeholders to collaborate, explore investment opportunities, and shape the future of the sector.
