access to opportunities, resources, and recognition for their contributions to Michigan's economy.

The NVBDC was founded to address a critical gap: ensuring veteran business owners receive the same level of opportunities and recognition as other diverse business groups. Under the leadership of Keith King, Founder & CEO of NVBDC, the organization has become the gold standard for veteran business certification, giving veteran entrepreneurs access to corporate and government contracting opportunities.

Keith King has dedicated his career to advocating for veteran entrepreneurs. His efforts have not gone unnoticed—he was named the State of Michigan, Midwest Regional, and National Veteran Small Business Champion by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), making history as the first veteran from Michigan to ever win the National Champion award.

As stated in the SBA award letter:

“Specifically, you have combined your professional and entrepreneurial career with your passion to assist veterans, especially veteran entrepreneurs, not only in the Detroit area but across our great state and the nation. Through your position as National Public Affairs Chairman of the Vietnam Veterans of America and as a member of the Economic Opportunity Committee, you helped promote the idea of veteran-owned businesses throughout the country. Your involvement with Vet Force and their interaction with all of the Veteran Service Organizations helped to create the first Veteran Business Owners Conference.”

Keith King's legacy is embedded in NVBDC's mission, ensuring that veteran business owners are not just recognized but also empowered with the tools, resources, and opportunities they need to compete and thrive in the marketplace.
