HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, March 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Equator APS 270 W Air Purifier provides efficient air purification and sterilization, offering a multi-layered approach to indoor air quality. Designed to effectively remove pollutants, allergens, and airborne germs, this compact yet powerful device ensures cleaner, healthier air in homes, offices, and other indoor spaces.

With dimensions of 14.96 x 7.87 inches and a lightweight build of 4.6 lbs, the Equator APS 270 W is designed for seamless integration into any environment. The ETL-certified unit delivers an airflow capacity of 150m³/h, covering spaces up to 269 sq. ft. Its intuitive touch interface, three fan speeds, and programmable timer function allow users to customize their air purification settings for optimal comfort.

Engineered with a triple-filter system, the APS 270 W effectively captures and eliminates a wide range of airborne contaminants. The outer filter, HEPA filter, and carbon filter work together to trap dust, pollen, pet dander, smoke, and odors, creating a healthier indoor environment. Additionally, the spiral-designed air outlet enhances air circulation, ensuring even distribution of purified air throughout the space.

Incorporating advanced purification technology, this model features a PET function for high-speed air cleaning, UVC sterilization, and ionization to actively remove airborne bacteria and viruses. With a low operating noise level of 40dB, it provides a whisper-quiet performance,
