One of the primary drivers of market expansion is the rising prevalence of spinal muscular atrophy (SMA). As a rare genetic disorder, SMA leads to progressive muscle weakness due to the loss of motor neurons in the spinal cord and lower brainstem.

Key factors contributing to increasing SMA cases include:

- Greater awareness among healthcare professionals and the general public.

Spinraza plays a vital role in SMA treatment by:

According to the National Library of Medicine (July 2023):

- Over 95% of SMA cases result from a homozygous deletion of the SMN1 gene.
