

Ambra Highlights Chef-Driven Italian Menus for Couples, Groups, and Private Gatherings in West Village

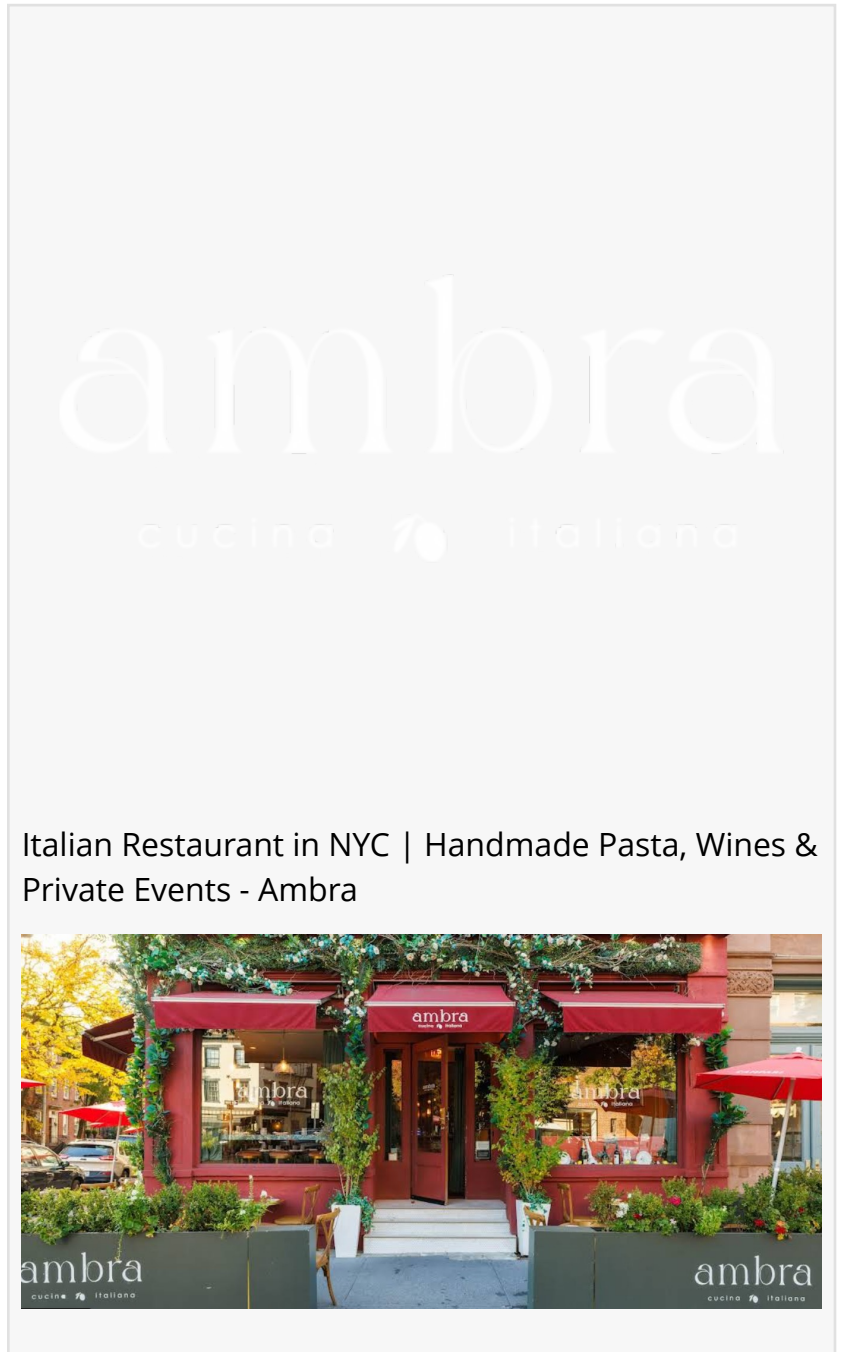

Ambra, led by Chef John DeLucie, offers handmade pasta, wood-fired pizza, and private dining in West Village, blending tradition with modern Italian cuisine.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, March 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ambra, an Italian restaurant in West Village NYC, presents a menu that blends traditional recipes with contemporary execution. Led by Chef John DeLucie, the restaurant focuses on handmade pasta, wood-fired pizza, and Italian antipasti. With options suited for couples, group dining, and private events, Ambra provides a savouring dining experience in New York City's Italian restaurant scene.

Curated Italian Menus

The menu reflects a balance of classic flavors and refined techniques. Handmade pasta selections include Paccheri Cacio Pepe, Pappardelle Al Ragu, and Caramelle Al Limone, prepared using time-honored methods. The wood-fired pizza offerings feature options such as Margherita with San Marzano tomatoes and Mortadella with ricotta and pistachio pesto, baked in a custom-built oven to achieve a crisp crust and deep flavor.

The antipasti menu includes long-stem artichokes, veal meatballs, and housemade focaccia with assorted dipping sauces. Guests can pair their meals with Italian wines sourced from Tuscany,
