

BCS Bus Has Expanded Its Charter Bus Services to the USA

After years of experience in Europe, BCS Bus now expands to the US. It aims to offer custom bus charter services to business and tourism clients on both sides.

AMSTERDAM, NETHERLANDS, March 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BCS Travel B.V. is proud to announce an expansion of its bus charter services. After ten years of hard work to improve its operation in Europe, reaching hundreds of major cities, it is now venturing into the USA to further cater to passenger groups.

This decision came after months of careful planning not only in terms of administrative issues, but also regarding how to operate in the new region. BCS Bus did extensive research to find the best vehicles and the most experienced drivers to deliver bus charter with its usual standards.

The company's management knows that the complexity of this process is justified by the potential of the target group. After all, ground transportation has always been popular in North America; BCS Bus improves quality and flexibility by better preparing and monitoring trips and actively responding to customer requests.

Another point of interest is the connection of both regions. Many US residents travel to Europe and vice versa, so BCS Bus can use its expertise to plan customized tours and to cater to all needs more efficiently. The company aims to extend its customer care beyond simple transportation.

CEO Eugene Bulan reassured that “our company is going to work with the same excellence that has characterized it for the past years”. At BCS-bus, you can get service the way you want by adding multiple stops, picking an exact route to follow, requesting a specific vehicle, and much more.

Among the North American cities where BCSBUSCharter is going to operate with its charter bus rental in the United States, we can mention New York City and Los Angeles for now. Both cities have vast potential for our services, and we are doing our very best to offer efficient and reliable bus charter services to the standards our clients deserve.

Both business and tourism groups can benefit from its service. We can plan specific itineraries to visit famous landmarks, to attend crowded events without any stress, or to quickly reach a conference venue. All we need is to understand what our clients need from our VIP services.

The goal is to explore the potential of the vast flow of passengers who travel back and forth between those regions, offering connected services with full reliability.

If you want more information on those bus services, feel free to write to BCS Bus at booking@bcs-bus.com. Once you submit your questions, we are going to reply shortly with the answers.
