DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, March 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In 2025, MG cars continue to be among the top ten most in-demand vehicles on the UAE's used car market. Buyers are drawn to MG models due to their affordability, modern features, and low maintenance costs. According to BOSO, a leading AI-powered classifieds platform, demand for MG vehicles remains steady, with MG cars price in UAE ranging from $10,000 for entry-level sedans to $26,000 for fully equipped SUVs.

On the used car market, MG prices vary based on mileage, condition, and model popularity. Data from BOSO reveals that MG cars price for pre-owned models starts at $8,000 AED for a 2022 MG 3 and goes up to $23,000 AED for low-mileage versions. Compact and midsize SUVs, along with budget-friendly sedans, are the most sought-after choices among buyers looking for economical yet reliable vehicles.

Which MG Models Are Most Popular on the Used Car Market?

According to BOSO's market analysis, the most in-demand used MG models in the UAE include:

- MG 5 – A budget-friendly sedan known for its fuel efficiency, often chosen as a first car.
- MG ZS – A compact SUV offering a spacious interior and modern features, ideal for city driving.
- MG HS – A midsize SUV that provides a higher level of comfort and advanced technology.
- MG RX5 – One of MG's most popular crossovers with strong resale value.
- MG RX8 – A full-size SUV with a powerful engine, commonly preferred by families seeking extra space.

"On the used car market, the MG 5 and MG ZS remain the most sought-after models. They offer a strong balance of affordability, fuel efficiency, and resale value. Meanwhile, the MG RX8 is a preferred choice in the full-size SUV segment, offering spacious interiors and solid off-road capabilities," said Iurii Nemtcev, Head of SEO at BOSO and CEO of Big Lab Digital Marketing Agency UAE.

Key Considerations When Buying a Used MG

Experts at BOSO emphasize that purchasing a pre-owned MG requires more than just looking at the price—factors such as service history, maintenance quality, and overall condition play a crucial role in determining the true value of the car.

What to Check Before Buying:

- Service history – Vehicles with regular servicing at authorized dealerships tend to have better longevity and reliability.
- Mileage and engine condition – A low mileage car may seem like a better deal, but a thorough mechanical check is essential to assess its true condition.
- Trim level and wear and tear – Budget-friendly MG models are often sold in base trims, so checking for additional features and wear on interior components is important.
- Market price comparison – Researching average MG prices helps buyers avoid overpaying or falling for misleading offers.

"One of the most common mistakes buyers make is choosing a used MG based solely on price. While a cheaper option may seem attractive, it could require costly repairs. Digital platforms now allow buyers to compare listings and check a vehicle's history before making a purchase," added Nemtcev.

Where to Find Reliable Used MG Listings?

According to BOSO, the shift toward online car sales in the UAE will continue to grow in 2025, making digital tools even more essential for car buyers. More buyers are using online platforms to compare prices, check vehicle history, and ensure a safer transaction.

"Previously, buyers relied mainly on private listings, but today, digital services provide far more options. They enable users to verify market prices, review a car's maintenance history, and even detect potential legal issues. These tools make the car-buying process more transparent and reduce the risk of fraudulent deals," BOSO experts explained.

Market analysts predict that demand for MG 5, MG ZS, and MG HS will remain strong in the coming years, as these models offer a great balance between price, features, and reliability.
