

CAHME Announces the Initial Accreditation of American Public University's Master of Science in Healthcare Administration

SPRING HOUSE , PA, UNITED STATES, March 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education (CAHME) Board of Directors approved the initial accreditation of American Public University System for its Master of Science in Healthcare Administration (MSHA) for a three-year term.

"Achieving CAHME accreditation is a testament to the excellence and rigor of our healthcare management program," said Dr. Brian Freeland, Dean of the School of STEM and School of Health Sciences at APUS. "This accreditation assures that we meet the highest standards of academic quality and professional relevance, providing our students with a robust foundation for their careers."

CAHME's mission is to advance the quality of healthcare management education globally"

Dr. Anthony Stanowski, DHA, FACHE, President and CEO of CAHME

Ensuring the health of our communities depends on creative, knowledgeable and mission driven professionals. Graduating from a CAHME Accredited program helps to better prepare the future leaders of healthcare.

program develops students' capacity to lead a healthcare workforce and provide quality patient-centered care.

Dr. Meagan Wilson, Associate Dean for the School of Health Sciences, STEM, and the Department Chair for Healthcare Administration for APUS said, "By focusing on leadership skills, core competencies, and essential soft skills like emotional intelligence, we ensure our graduates are ready for success in healthcare management.

Together, we are shaping the next generation of healthcare leaders for a global society."

"CAHME-accredited programs have successfully navigated a complex and careful accreditation process managed by experts in the study and practice of healthcare management," said Dr. Anthony Stanowski, DHA, FACHE, president and CEO of CAHME. "The program meets rigorous standards set by leading academics and practitioners. We recognize their commitment to the field.”

About CAHME

Since 1968, the Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education (CAHME) has served the public interest by advancing the quality of healthcare management education globally. CAHME accredits 157 academic programs in management which have broadly been defined to include healthcare quality and safety, and population health.

CAHME works with leading academic programs and numerous healthcare practitioners to ensure that graduates entering the healthcare field have undergone an educational process meeting rigorous, measurable standards for effectiveness. The result is a formal academic education focusing on key competencies, plus practical experiences. This enables new graduates to quickly add value to an organization and grow into future leaders. CAHME is the only organization recognized by the Council on Higher Education Accreditation to grant accreditation to individual academic programs offering a graduate degree in healthcare management.
