

TaxZerone Reminds Business Filers: Today is the Final Day to File S-Corp and Partnership Returns or Request an Extension

Secure an Additional 6 Months to Prepare Your Business Tax Returns by Filing Form 7004 Before Midnight Today

SAN JOSE, CA, UNITED STATES, March 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today marks the final day for businesses to file tax returns for S-Corporations (Form 1120-S) and Partnerships (Form 1065), along with other business tax forms, including Form 1066, Form 3520-A, Form 8804, and Form 1042. Businesses that are not ready to file their returns can avoid penalties by filing Form 7004 today to request a 6-month extension.

The IRS will not approve extensions submitted after today's deadline. Filing an extension allows businesses additional time to prepare their returns accurately and avoid costly penalties.

Importance of Filing an Extension:

Filing an extension is a practical solution for businesses that need more time to organize financial records or address tax-related issues. An approved extension gives businesses until September 15, 2025, to file their returns without facing late filing penalties.

- Avoiding Penalties: Filing Form 7004 helps avoid penalty by securing additional time.
- Ensuring Accuracy: Preparing a tax return under time constraints increases the risk of errors. Filing an extension provides more time to review financial details and ensure accurate reporting.

□ No Extension for Payments: While an extension provides more time to file, it does not extend the time to pay any taxes owed. Any balance due must still be paid by the original deadline to avoid late payment penalties and interest.
