

Preliminary Agenda Announced For 2025 International Fuel Ethanol Workshop & Expo

Produced by Ethanol Producer Magazine and organized by BBI International

OMAHA, NE, UNITED STATES, March 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ethanol Producer Magazine announced this week the preliminary agenda for the 2025 International Fuel Ethanol Workshop & Expo (FEW) taking place June 9-11, 2025 at the CHI Health Center in Omaha, Nebraska.

This year's agenda includes three co-located events: Sustainable Fuels Summit, Carbon Capture & Storage Summit, and the annual pre-conference event, Ethanol 101.

"As the ethanol industry continues to innovate and improve efficiencies, the FEW remains one of the most important events for driving progress. This year's agenda is focused on equipping producers with the knowledge and strategies needed to optimize operations and enhance production. In addition to ethanol production, management, and product diversification, the agenda will cover advancements in carbon capture and storage, biodiesel and renewable diesel production, and sustainable aviation fuel," says John Nelson, chief operating officer at BBI International. "Ethanol 101 will also provide a key educational opportunity for newcomers to the industry. Now more than ever, collaboration and innovation are essential, and we're excited to bring industry together in Omaha for what promises to be an impactful event."

The program includes nearly 170 presentations across multiple consecutive tracks, including:
Production and Operations: Biological and Mechanical Processes, Plant Control
Leadership and Financial Management
Coproducts and Product Diversification
