Better Ways to Handle Snow and Ice

The company is using better methods to deal with winter weather. They focus on clearing important areas first and use special equipment to remove snow from roads, sidewalks, and parking lots.

Keeping Roads Safe Through Better Snow Management

Ice is dangerous for drivers and pedestrians. Perfect Touch Landscapes uses preventive methods like de-icing and snow clearing in Everett to reduce problems from sudden weather changes. They use different de-icing products based on the temperature to work better while protecting the environment.

Treating roads before snow falls helps prevent ice from sticking to surfaces. After it snows, they plow and move the snow carefully to keep both neighborhoods and business areas clear.

Special Equipment and Smart Strategies

The company uses powerful plows, salt spreaders, and liquid de-icing systems. They choose which to use based on road conditions and weather forecasts. Using both machines and ice-melting chemicals helps keep roads from getting slippery.

The company uses weather data to decide how much de-icer to use and when to apply it. They monitor conditions in real-time and can adjust their plans if the weather changes. They use salt water (brine) solutions along with regular salt to protect roads longer.
