“I am looking forward to being on the road once more in this great country we love with this amazing band and singing for our friends again. What a journey this career has been, and we're not done yet!” says Bill Henderson, Founding Member and Lead Singer of Chilliwack.

As lead singer, guitarist, producer, and songwriter, Bill Henderson played a major role in the success of Chilliwack's twelve albums released from 1969 to 1985. Born in Vancouver, Bill grew up in Western Canada and began earning a living as a musician while still in high school. He studied music at the University of British Columbia and in 1966 helped found The Collectors, one of Canada's most innovative musical groups. After two albums, the group evolved into Chilliwack.

Along with Bill there have been many “key” members in the group including Claire Lawrence, Ross Turney, Brian MacLeod, Ab Bryant and John Roles to name a few. The current line up working with Bill is brother Ed Henderson on guitar and vocals, Jerry Adolphe (since 1985) on drums, and newest member Gord Maxwell on bass and vocals. Together over the last 20 some years they have evolved a powerful chemistry.

This show promises great music and memories—one final chance to sing along to these hit tunes before this tour is... GONE, GONE, GONE!
