WEST COVINA, CA, UNITED STATES, March 19, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- West Covina High School's Robotics Team 968 deserves a massive shoutout for their outstanding performance at the most recent regional competition in Los Angeles! The talented team showcased their exceptional innovation, engineering, and teamwork skills, making it to the finals and proving themselves formidable competitors in robotics.

Team 968's journey to the finals was a testament to their dedication, problem-solving abilities, and collaboration. Competing against some of the region's best high school robotics teams, they demonstrated ingenuity and resilience, wowing the judges and spectators with their robot's capabilities.

"This achievement reflects our students' hard work, creativity, and perseverance," said Dr. Charles Park, Principal of West Covina High School. "Team 968 has continuously pushed the boundaries of innovation, and we are incredibly proud of their success at this competition."
