

BankerBounty Partners with CSI

BIRMINGHAM, AL, UNITED STATES, March 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BankerBounty, a leading provider of incentive-based referral programs for community banks, announced a strategic partnership with Computer Services, Inc. (CSI), a leading fintech solutions provider. This collaboration will provide many opportunities for BankerBounty's innovative referral platform to work in tandem with CSI's robust core banking and digital solutions, offering community banks the tools needed to drive growth and engagement.

The partnership combines BankerBounty's expertise in incentivizing lead generation—through its unique “BankerBounty Bucks” program—with CSI's advanced technology infrastructure, trusted by hundreds of financial institutions nationwide. “We're thrilled to team up with CSI to bring our referral program to a wider audience,” said Randy Goggans, CEO of BankerBounty. “This partnership will allow us to provide more community banks with our one of a kind referral technology, aligning perfectly with CSI's mission to help these institutions compete and thrive.”

Through this partnership, CSI customers will be able to work with BankerBounty to set up their structured incentive model, which has proven effective in fostering a culture of continuous improvement and responsibility among bank staff. The program enables users to submit leads anytime, anywhere, with successful referrals earning rewards. Community banks are always looking for innovative ways to expand their reach, and BankerBounty's approach fits seamlessly alongside the CSI ecosystem. By combining BankerBounty's referral incentives with CSI's open banking platform, the companies are giving customers a competitive edge in today's financial landscape.
