

Lavender Con Book Festival Returns June 14-15, 2025

Multiple Venues Capitol Hill, Washington DC

WASHINGTON, DC, UNITED STATES, March 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Patrick Kern announced that Lavender Con returns for Pride 2025 in Washington, DC, the host for World Pride 2025, and will hold a 2-day event hosting 80+ authors from across the U.S.

An exciting opportunity to connect with favorite authors and discover new favorites from middle grade, young adult, romance, science fiction, fantasy, horror, literary fiction, and more. In addition to a variety of author panels and author signing events each day, Little District Books will have an extensive on-site bookshop, and a queer makers market filled with talented queer artisans and bookish creators from across the US.

Hosted by Little District Books, DC's indie bookstore dedicated to celebrating LGBTQIA+ authors and stories Lavender Con will take place across multiple venues in the Capitol Hill neighborhood of Washington DC on June 14-15, 2025.

Lavender Con will add additional exciting elements leading up to the event. Mark your calendars and join us in celebrating LGBTQIA+ authors and stories.

The graphic features a central purple banner with the text "LAVENDER CON" in large, bold, white letters, a rainbow-colored graphic element, and "June 14-15, 2025 Washington, DC" in white. Surrounding the banner are portraits of authors and book covers for "Running Close to the Wind" by Alexandra Rogians, "Gay the Pray Away" by Natalie Nardus, "Compound Fracture" by Amber Joseph, "The Divide That Binds Us" by Michelle J., "Sargassa" by Sophie Burnham, "Mistress of Lies" by K. M. Enright, "Iron Tongue of Midnight" by Titilay W. Williams, and "Once Upon You & Me" by Timothy Janovsky.

Join these and other authors at Lavender Con 2025
