

airSlate SignNow Launches Seamless eSignature Integration for Salesforce CRM Users

BOSTON, MA, UNITED STATES, March 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- airSlate, a global SaaS leader in electronic signature and document workflow automation, has launched an integration of its eSignature solution, SignNow, with Salesforce, the AI-powered CRM platform. This integration enables businesses to manage and accelerate document workflows directly within Salesforce CRM, enhancing efficiency and productivity.

Through airSlate SignNow for Salesforce, users can send documents for eSignature with a single click from any Salesforce record, pre-fill documents with Salesforce data, and track document status in real-time—all without leaving the Salesforce platform. The key features of this integration include:

1. Automated contract preparation and delivery. Users can instantly populate contracts with Salesforce CRM data and send documents to recipients in any order. This allows them to focus on closing deals without manual paperwork hassles.
2. Seamless workflow integration. This integration enables users to collect signatures, update records with gathered data, and store completed contracts directly within Salesforce, keeping all work within one efficient platform.
3. Industry-leading compliance and security. It is possible to protect sensitive data with top-tier standards, including 21 CFR Part 11, HIPAA, GDPR, and CCPA, ensuring both compliance and enterprise-grade protection.

The airSlate SignNow integration for Salesforce is now available. To learn more about how this integration can transform your document workflows, visit
