Is The Acute Pharyngitis Market Set To Witness Substantial Growth?

It will grow to $3.98 billion in 2029 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 10.5%.”

The Business Research Company

The acute pharyngitis market has demonstrated notable growth in recent years, with an expected increase from $2.67 billion in 2024 to $2.90 billion in 2025, exhibiting a compound annual growth rate CAGR of 8.5%. This robust development during the historical period can be accredited to a rise in incidences of viral and bacterial infections, heightened awareness regarding healthcare, advent of novel diagnostic technologies, escalating number of pediatric cases, and an upswing in environmental pollutants and allergens.

One of the significant factors propelling the growth of the acute pharyngitis market is the escalating prevalence of influenza. Influenza, triggered by an infection with the influenza viruses, transmitted through respiratory droplets from coughs, sneezes, or contact with contaminated surfaces, is poised to drive the market growth. The rise in influenza prevalence results from seasonal variations, low vaccination rates, increased human mobility, viral mutations, and weakened immunity among certain populations. Acute pharyngitis treatment aids fluent patients by reducing throat inflammation and pain, easing discomfort while swallowing, preventing secondary bacterial infections, and supporting overall recovery. As per the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention CDC, a US-based government agency, the percentage of clinical lab tests positive for influenza escalated to 31.6% as of February 2025, a surge from 29.4% the previous week and 18.6% at the inception of the year.

Who Are The Key Players In The Acute Pharyngitis Market?

Major players championing the acute pharyngitis market include Pfizer Inc., Johnson & Johnson, AbbVie Inc., Merck & Co. Inc., Sanofi S.A., Bristol-Myers Squibb, AstraZeneca plc, Novartis AG, and F. Hoffmann-La Roche AG among others. Notably, these companies are focusing on the development of more efficient antibiotics to combat bacterial infections and curb antibiotic resistance.

In a world increasingly turning to alternative remedies and home-based treatments, the acute pharyngitis market has been classified by Treatment as: Antibiotics, Antivirals, Over-the-Counter OTC Medications, Corticosteroids And Anti-inflammatory Drugs, Alternative Remedies; by Distribution Channel as: Hospital Pharmacy, Online Pharmacy, Retail Pharmacy; and by End-User as: Hospitals, Homecare, Specialty Centres, Other End Users.
