

The CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4 is an Engineered for Intel® EVO™ Laptop Accessory

PLACENTIA, CA, UNITED STATES, March 25, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

CalDigit Inc. is delighted to announce that the CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4 (TS4) has been verified as an Engineered for Intel® Evo™ Laptop Accessory.

"Today another CalDigit device has been verified as an Engineered for Intel® Evo™ Laptop Accessory", said Kosta Panagos, Director of Marketing at CalDigit. "Intel® Evo™ Laptops provide best-in-class standards for PC laptops, and the CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4's inclusion makes it an ideal docking station for use with these powerful laptops".

The CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4 has passed Intel's rigorous testing standards, ensuring an exceptional user experience with Intel® Evo™ laptops. This testing ensures seamless connectivity, and reliability across devices, including fast charging, ultra-fast storage performance, and fast wake times all via a single universal cable.

"We are excited to welcome the CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4 into the Engineered for Intel® Evo™ laptop accessory program, said Ben Hacker, General Manager, Intel® Client Connectivity Division. "Accessories like the CalDigit Thunderbolt™ Station 4 are designed to maximize your Intel® Evo™ laptop experience with one simple, universal cable enabling additional monitors and multiple accessories."

Mandatory testing by Intel for all Thunderbolt™ enabled computers, accessories, and cables, which are included in the Engineered for Intel® Evo™ laptops program offer the most reliable connectivity and work well across computers from different brands.
