

Indonesia's IT & Tech pioneers to shape the country's future at digitalCIO 2025

BENGALURU, KARNATAKA, INDIA, March 27, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In the wake of numerous pro-tech government policies and a soaring number of venture capitalists, Indonesia's technology sphere is undergoing a massive paradigm shift. To give a fair idea, it's estimated that the country's Information and Communications Technology market will reach $81.21 billion by 2027.

In this dynamic era, where CIOs & Tech leaders across sectors are moving fast to maximize digital investments and get on top of the technology wave, TradePass is bringing the industry's most focused event, digitalCIO once again to Jakarta on 15 - 16 July 2025.

Scheduled to take place at one of the most elegant 5-star hotels - The Ritz-Carlton Jakarta, Mega Kuningan, the two-day event will host Indonesia's 400+ leading CIOs, IT & Technology leaders from the country's biggest organisations to discuss and explore the future of Indonesia's digital realm.

To facilitate the same, digitalCIO will navigate through digital leadership, innovation-driven culture, future of connectivity, generative intelligence in the age of AI, omni-experience, evolving from hybrid to multi-cloud, future of IT and many other pressing domains.

Following a series of national initiatives including but not limited to the 100 Smart City Movement, e-smart IKM, Go Digital Vision 2020 and Indonesia Broadband Plan (IBP), it's forecasted that the country's digital economy will add $150 billion to the GDP by 2025. To further support this projection, the government has launched several tax incentives along with providing a conducive R&D environment for the expansion of digital services.
