OTTAWA, ONTARIO, CANADA, March 26, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The City Show™, a global podcast and media platform, has published two open letters – one addressed to the Canadian people and another directed to President Donald Trump and Mr. Elon Musk. Led by The City Show™ founder and CEO, Jack Alexander, these letters call for urgent action to address Canada's economic and political crisis.

First Letter \(link\) – An Open Letter to Canadians highlights the failures of Justin Trudeau's Liberal Party government, citing economic mismanagement, rising inflation, unaffordable living conditions, and restrictive policies that have hindered free speech and business growth. The letter urges Canadians to demand better governance, greater transparency, and economic policies that promote national prosperity.

Second Letter \(link\) – Addressed to President Donald Trump and Mr. Elon Musk, the second Open Letter calls for international awareness and support in challenging the narrative pushed by the Canadian political establishment and mainstream media. Jack Alexander is seeking an invitation to the White House to discuss U.S.-Canada trade relations and advocate for a mutually beneficial economic agreement. The letter also appeals to Mr. Musk to use his platform to amplify the call for free speech and transparency in Canada.

Jack Alexander's investigative trip to Ottawa on March 9, 2025, provided firsthand insight into the country's growing challenges. The City Show™ has also produced supporting video materials, including:

□ A Video Report from Mark Carney's Liberal Party Leadership event, analyzing the lack of accountability and transparency within the Liberal Party.

Jack Alexander, CEO of The City Show™ stated:

"These Open Letters are a wake-up call. Canadians deserve to know the truth about their country's economic decline and political failures. We are reaching out to President Donald Trump and Elon Musk, because they have the influence and tools at their disposal, in order to help expose the disastrous reality enabled by Justin Trudeau and the entire Liberal Party government, including Mark Carney."

Additionally, Jack Alexander is requesting an invitation to the White House to understand President Trump's vision for a successful trade deal and explore how both he and Elon Musk can help shift the conversation in Canada. He is also advocating for increased support for Pierre Poilievre, leader of the Official Opposition and the Conservative Party.

These Open Letters are a wake-up call. Canadians deserve to know the truth about their country's economic decline and political failures.”
