Standards at Collier County Public Schools, where he plays a key role in fostering a culture of integrity, accountability, and support among educators and staff. Previously, he held the role of Director of Human Resources, Professional Learning, and Recruitment for Zoom Tan and Beach Bum, leading talent development and organizational growth across multiple locations.

I’m honored to join the Board of Naples Soccer Academy and to contribute to a mission that so clearly prioritizes the development of youth both on and off the field,” said Andrew Reinke. “As someone who has dedicated my career to education and supporting young people, I see the Academy as a vital force for positive change in our community—empowering athletes with confidence, character, and leadership that will serve them for life.

Before relocating to Southwest Florida, Andrew served in various school leadership roles in Illinois, including Principal and Assistant Principal at District 300 Schools and Cary School District. Throughout his career, he has been guided by a strong belief that investing in youth—and in the people who serve them—is the foundation of strong, resilient communities. Andrew holds a Bachelor of Science in Education from Northern Illinois University and a Master of Education in School Leadership from Concordia University Chicago.

I'm delighted to welcome Andy to NSA, said Jason Gruner, Executive Director of Naples Soccer Academy. "His sharp critical thinking and steadfast integrity embody the leadership we cherish. Andy's relentless commitment to youth development will play a vital role in advancing our focus on player safety and long-term athlete growth."
