

Analyst1 Launches A1Defender Partner Program to Empower Channel Partners with Advanced Threat Intelligence

Analyst1 launches new Defender Partner Program

RESTON, VA, UNITED STATES, March 27, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Analyst1, a leader in advanced threat intelligence and cyber defense solutions, today unveiled the A1Defender Partner Program, a comprehensive initiative designed to equip resellers, system integrators, and solution providers with the tools, expertise, and intelligence needed to drive revenue and enhance customer security.

The A1Defender Partner Program allows partners to leverage the Analyst1 Threat Intelligence Platform, providing unparalleled visibility into emerging cyber threats. The program offers dedicated sales and technical support, co-marketing opportunities, deal registration protection, and flexible pricing structures to ensure partners thrive in a rapidly changing cybersecurity landscape.

“Threat intelligence is no longer optional—it’s essential,” said BJ Ferguson, Head of Channel at Analyst1. “The A1Defender Partner Program ensures that our partners have access to the intelligence, innovation, and resources they need to drive business growth while providing real value to their customers. Our goal is to make threat intelligence more accurate, actionable, and accessible—helping analysts execute their jobs more effectively.”

Key Benefits of the A1Defender Partner Program:

- Cutting-Edge Threat Intelligence: Access Analyst1’s advanced threat intelligence platform, enabling proactive threat hunting, incident response, and attribution.
- Sales & Technical Support: Receive hands-on assistance, including training, certification, and deal registration protection.

- Co-Marketing & Business Growth: Gain visibility through joint marketing efforts, exclusive insights, and partner-driven business planning.
- Flexible & Profitable Partnership: Competitive margins, incentive programs, and low barriers to entry make it easy for partners to maximize value.

As cyber threats grow in complexity, organizations demand actionable intelligence that goes beyond alerts, providing deep context and attribution. Analyst1's platform delivers exactly that, allowing partners to strengthen security strategies for their customers while unlocking new revenue opportunities.
