year, 15 graduating high school seniors across Louisiana will each receive an Apple MacBook Air to help them succeed in their college or trade school journey. The giveaway underscores McKernan's commitment to supporting the next generation as they take their next academic and professional steps.

The giveaway is open to Louisiana high school seniors graduating in spring 2025 who plan to attend college or trade school in the fall. To enter, students must submit either a 300-word essay or a one-minute video explaining why they deserve a laptop. Entries must be submitted through the official form gordonsgrads.com by April 30, 2025, at 11:59 p.m. CST.

"A reliable laptop is a necessity for students today, and I want to help remove that obstacle for as many as I can," McKernan said. "Education opens doors, and we're proud to play a small role in helping students reach their goals."

McKernan encourages all eligible seniors to apply and take advantage of this opportunity.

"Higher education comes with enough challenges—having the right tools shouldn't be one of them," he added. "I'm excited to support these students as they take their next step."
